'Here are two options you can use. \n\nChoose Option 1 if you want a standard, formal request. Choose Option 2 if you need to send a shorter, more direct email (especially if you are sending it on the morning of your absence).\n\n### Option 1: Standard & Professional (Recommended)\n\nSubject: Sick Leave Request: [Your Name] - [Start Date] to [End Date]\n\nDear [Manager\'s Name],\n\nPlease accept this email as a formal request for two days of sick leave. I have come down with a severe fever and am currently unfit to work. I plan to take leave starting today, [Start Date], and expect to return to work on [Return Date].\n\nI have made sure that my urgent tasks for the next two days are covered. If any urgent issues arise during my absence, please contact [Colleague\'s Name], who has kindly agreed to assist.\n\nI will keep you updated on my recovery progress. Thank you for your understanding.\n\nSincerely,\n\n[Your Name] [Your Job Title] \n\nOption 2: Short & Direct
